

My Tree Throughout the Seasons

My Tree Throughout the Seasons

by Julia Dweck

When school began my oak tree's head was orange, yellow, green and red.

Winter came in dark of night--
And left my tree all dressed in white.

Then springtime entered in a blink,
And rained down blossoms, red and pink.

As summer raced upon the scene,
It graced my tree in leaves of green.

And when the summer's at an end
My tree turns colors once again.
